What's an area in your life where God has given you a great opportunity and has called you to obedience?

How have you seen his be involved in your journey? Be as open as you can and specific as you're able.

Apply

We heard four statements at the end of the message this week. Which of the following is resonating with you today and why? Share with the group. Once again, be as open as you are able. It helps each of us grow and encourages others to share as well.

- We are most vulnerable when we least expect the temptation
- God always has the right person to match the hour
- When life seems especially dark, God comes especially close
- Unchecked sinful bents are passed from the parent to the child
